Prince Street Church -

THE CHOIR: A COLLECTION OF SACRED VOCAL MUSIC

FOR THE USE OF

THE CONGREGATIONS AND FAMILIES

OF THE

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF THE LOWER PROVINCES, B.N.A.

PREPARED BY A COMMITTEE APPOINTED BY SYNOD.

New Edition, Enlarged and Improved.

HALIFAX, N.S.: PUBLISHED BY A. & W. MACKINLAY.

P R E F A C E.

THE Synod's Committee, while presenting to the Christian public the result of their labours in the preparation of a new Collection of Sacred Vocal Music, desire to have it distinctly understood, that they have taken due precaution to retain all the tunes which are now in general use throughout the Presbyterian Church of the Lower Provinces of British North America. It is confidently expected that the Leaders of Church Music will find no "old favourite" omitted, while the lovers of "new style" will be gratified with such an addition as includes not only the choicest tunes of modern origin, but a goodly number from young but gifted composers within our own Church. Authors' names will be found appended to their respective compositions.

In all previous collections, not excepting the "Harmonicon," which for many years has been extensively used in our congregations, a large amount of tunes and pieces are found which have never gained general acceptance. In the present publication, care has been taken to exclude all such, and only to insert those which are most likely to secure public favour.

It is well known that quite a number of the finest tunes originally introduced into this Continent from Great Britain, have been appropriated by American publishers, who, after slight, it may be, but vicious alterations, both in melody and harmony, have issued them under new names. In every such instance the original has been faithfully restored, and the old familiar name affixed. Great care has been taken throughout to correct the harmony when defective, and it is confidently expected that this part of the Committee's work will be duly appreciated.

Indices have been prepared with much care, not only to facilitate reference to the various metres and tunes, but to afford important aid in the selection of appropriate tunes for the Psalmody now in use in the Presbyterian Churches throughout British North America. From a little work published by T. Nelson & Sons, Edinburgh, the Committee have taken the liberty of extracting an emotional classification of the Psalms and Paraphrases, which they trust will be found of great value to leaders of choirs and others, whose duty it may be to select the tunes to be used in public worship. Psalm Books with expression type, to note the character and change of sentiment which frequently occurs in the same Psalm, and sometimes even in the same verse, should be universally used, when they can be at all obtained. The same tune may thus, by change of voice and time, be made to be the most natural exponent of the bold and triumphant, as well as the pathetic and plaintive. Good service would be rendered to the Church by the publication of a New Edition of the present Metrical Psalmody with expression type, so that copies of it, as well as of "the Choir," might be found in every pew.

The emotional classification of tunes is published with some misgiving, as the Committee have found it very difficult, in some instances, to determine with precision the distinctive character of expression embodied by each tune. In successive editions of the work above referred to, the proprietors have found it necessary to make frequent alterations in the classification of tunes which it contains. The Committee trust, however, that while in some few instances their estimate of tunes may not be sanctioned by general approval, it will on the whole be received as correct, and form a very valuable feature of "the Choir."

By the kind permission of the proprietors of the Bristol Tune Book, the Committee have selected a number of tunes, to which, with a few others taken from the Hymn Book of the English Presbyterian Church, they would direct attention as models of fine harmony.

In adapting, wherever practicable, the music to words from our metrical version of the Psalms, the Committee have followed a course which they hope few of the ministers and members of our Church will disapprove. As, however, at meetings for mere musical practice, there is danger that words so sacred in their character may be used irreverently, a few verses of various metres are subjoined, which may with advantage be substituted. It has been deemed advisable to include in "the Choir" a number of tunes adapted to metres not contained in the Psalms, but without which the Committee felt it would be incomplete. Though not suitable for our devotional meetings, these tunes may be practised with great advantage in the family, and their use in this way will greatly help to promote a taste for, and proficiency in Sacred Vocal Music.

A few good Hymns are given in full, and a small number of Anthems and other pieces are subjoined, to meet the wishes of those who desire something more varied and difficult than Psalm tunes.

In the restoration and improvement of defective Harmony, also in the selection of tunes and preparation of Indices, the members of Committee who have bestowed most labour are Messrs James Hepburn, Pictou, and Charles Robson of Halifax, both of whom were engaged in preparing the several editions of the "Harmonicon," and for their supervision of that work both received the special commendation of the Publishers, Messrs James Dawson & Son, Pictou. It has not been judged necessary to prefix any instruction on the principles and art of Sacred Vocal Music. These to be usefully given would require much greater space than could be devoted to them, and indeed are much more effectively taught by the living voice of the properly-qualified teacher. The great desideratum was felt to be the publication of as large and choice a collection of tunes as the limits of the present work would admit.

Elementary instruction in written form will be found to some extent in all the various tune books now in use. The Committee, however, would recommend specially the "Elements of Vocal Music," taken from the Boston Academy's collection of Church Music, as found in the "Harmonicon," or in the complete work from which these extracts have been taken, "Boston Academy's Manual of Vocal Music," by Lowell Mason.

By order of Committee,

JAMES BAYNE, D.D., Convener.

EMOTIONAL CLASSIFICATION OF PASSAGES

Column first presents the Psalms, &c., in numerical order, dividing them into portions where the emotional character changes. Column second applies to each passage a descriptive term. Verses for Practice.

PLAINTIVE.

COMMON MEASURE.

Few are thy days, and full of woe,
O man, of woman born !
Thy doom is written, "Dust thou art,
And shalt to dust return."

Behold the emblem of thy state
In flowers that bloom and die,
Or in the shadow's fleeting form,
That mocks the gazer's eye.

LONG MEASURE.

The living know that they must die ;
But all the dead forgotten lie :
Their mem'ry and their name is gone,
Alike unknowing and unknown.

SHORT MEASURE.

Our days are as the grass,
Or like the morning flower,—
If one sharp blast sweeps o'er the field,
It withers in an hour.

GRAVE.

COMMON MEASURE.

Since all this frame of things must end,
As heaven has so decreed,
How wise our inmost thoughts to guard,
And watch o'er ev'ry deed.

Expecting calm th' appointed hour,
When, Nature's conflict o'er,
A new and better world shall rise,
Where sin is known no more.

LONG MEASURE.

As long as life its term extends,
Hope's blest dominion never ends;
For while the lamp holds on to burn,
The greatest sinner may return.

SHORT MEASURE.

He leads me by his side,
Where heavenly pasture grows,
Where living waters gently glide,
And full salvation flows.

JOYFUL.

COMMON MEASURE.

With joy and peace shall then be led
The glad converted lands ;
The lofty mountains then shall sing,
The forests clap their hands.

Where briars grew 'midst barren wilds,
Shall firs and myrtles spring ;
And nature, through its utmost bounds,
Eternal praises sing.

LONG MEASURE.

Adoring praise, 'tis heaven's employ—
Bright angels wish no higher joy ;
Amidst the ever blissful throng,
All, all is love and sacred song.

SHORT MEASURE.

Ye glorious hosts above,
Your sweetest anthems raise,
While mortals gladly join with you
In joyful songs of praise.

ELEMENTS OF VOCAL MUSIC.

CHAPTER I. RHYTHM.* NOTES AND RESTS.

1. NOTES represent musical sounds.
2. RESTS indicate silence.
3. As musical sounds differ in length, the notes which represent them differ.
4. There are six kinds of notes in general use, each of which has its corresponding rest.

The WHOLE NOTE or Semibreve	The HALF NOTE or Minim	The QUARTER NOTE or Crotchet	The EIGHTH NOTE or Quaver	The SIXTEENTH NOTE or Semiquaver	The 32ND NOTE or Demisemiquaver
is a plain white note. Its rest is a heavy dash under the line.	is a white note with a stem. Its rest is a heavy dash above the line.	is a black note with a stem. Its rest is a stem with one hook turned to the right.	is a black note with a stem and one hook. Its rest is a stem with one hook turned to the left.	is a black note with a stem and two hooks. Its rest is a stem with two hooks turned to the left.	is a black note with a stem and three hooks. Its rest is a stem with three hooks turned to the left.

5. One whole note is (of course) equal in length to 2 half notes, 4 quarter notes, 8 eighths, 16 sixteenths, or 32 thirty-seconds.

6. Besides the above notes, sixty-fourths and double notes or are sometimes used.

NOTE. The whole rest, alone, is used to fill a measure in all kinds of time. When placed under the staff, it represents a whole strain.

* RHYTHM relates to the length, MELODY to the pitch, DYNAMICS to the power, and HARMONY to the combination of musical sounds.

7. A Dot adds one half to the length of a note. Thus a dotted whole note is equal to ; a dotted half note is equal to .

8. A dotted note may be lengthened by a second dot, which adds half as much as the first dot. Thus a double dotted quarter note is equal to or .

NOTE. Dots are applied to rests as well as to notes, and with the same effect.

9. When a figure 3 is placed over or under three notes of the same kind, they are called a TRIPLET, and are performed in the time of two without the figure.

QUESTIONS.

Of what does Chap. I. treat? To what does Rhythm relate? Melody? Dynamics? Harmony? What do notes represent? Rests? How many kinds of notes are there? Rests? Describe a whole note and its rest. Half note. Quarter. Eighth. Sixteenth. Thirty-second. What other notes are sometimes used? What rest is used to fill a measure in all kinds of time? When placed under the staff what does it represent? What is the effect of a dot? Examples? Of a second dot? Examples? Describe a TRIPLET?

CHAPTER II.

RHYTHM.

TIME.—MEASURE.

10. Music is divided into equal portions, called MEASURES.

MEASURE. MEASURE.

Ex.

BAR.

11. A BAR is used for separating measures.

ELEMENTS OF VOCAL MUSIC.

12. In order to give each note its right time, certain motions of the hand are made, called BEATING TIME.

REMARK 1. He who does not learn to beat time will never learn to sing.

2. After one has learned to sing, it is not necessary for him to beat time.

13. A measure with two parts is called DOUBLE MEASURE. It has two beats, viz., Down, Up—and is accented on the first part. It has two varieties, marked 2-2 and 2-4—the upper figure, in all cases, denoting the kind of time, and the lower, the particular note used to fill each part of the measure. Thus 2-2 signifies that it takes 2 half notes—2-4 that it takes 2 quarter notes to fill a measure.

2ND VARIETY.

2ND VARIETY.

14. A measure with three parts is called TRIPLE MEASURE. It has three beats, viz., Down, Left, Up—and is accented on the first part. It has three varieties in common use.

TRIPLE MEASURE.

1ST VARIETY.

2ND VARIETY.

3RD VARIETY.

EXERCISES.

Sing La, or any other syllable, and beat time.

15. A measure with four parts is called QUADRUPLE MEASURE. It has four beats, viz., Down, Left, Right, Up—and is accented principally on the first, and slightly on the third part. It has two varieties in common use.

QUADRUPLE MEASURE.

1ST VARIETY.

2ND VARIETY.

16. A measure with six parts is called SEXTUPLE MEASURE. It is accented principally on the first, and slightly on the fourth part; and has either six beats, or, which is quite as well and much more convenient, two beats, viz., Down, Up—three parts being sung to each beat. It has two varieties in common use.

SEXTUPLE MEASURE.

2ND VARIETY.

Sing all the above to the syllable La, and beat the time.

NOTE 1. Each kind of time may have as many varieties as there are different kinds of notes. The above only are in general use. Sometimes 9-4, 9-8, 12-4, 12-8 are used.

NOTE 2. As notes have only a relative length, 2-2 time is not necessarily slower than 2-4 time, nor is 3-8 necessarily faster than 3-2.

ELEMENTS OF VOCAL MUSIC.

QUESTIONS.

Of what does Chapter II. treat? How is music divided? What is used for separating measures? What is done in order to give each note its right time? What is said in remark 1? What is a measure with two parts called? How many beats has Double measure? What are they? Beat and describe—Down, Up—one, two. On which part is the accent? Beat and sing—La. How many varieties has Double measure? How marked? What does the upper figure always denote? Lower? What does 2-2 signify? 2-4? Will you describe Triple measure? How many parts? Beats? How beat? Beat and describe. How accented? Beat and sing. Varieties? How many parts has Quadruple measure? Beats? Beat and describe. How accented? Beat and sing. Varieties? Sextuple measure—Parts? How accented? Beats? How many parts to a beat? Sing and beat. Varieties? How many kinds of measure in general use? Have notes a positive or only a relative length? Consequence? Exercises?

CHAPTER III.

M E L O D Y.

THE STAFF, SCALE, &c.

17. Music is written upon five parallel lines and their spaces called

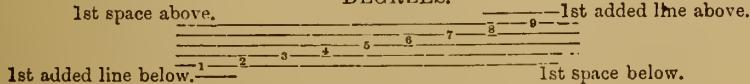

THE STAFF.

18. Each line and space is called a DEGREE. Thus the staff contains nine degrees, which, like the lines and spaces, are numbered upward.

19. The number of degrees may be increased by ADDED LINES either below or above the staff.

DEGREES.

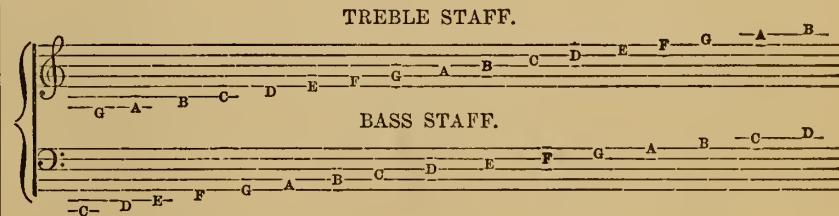

THE SCALE.

20. The pitch of notes is represented by their situation on the staff.
21. The difference of pitch between any two notes is called an INTERVAL.

22. The Diatonic Major, or Natural Scale, is a series of eight sounds, which succeed each other at different intervals, but are numbered in regular order, upward. From 1 to 2, 2 to 3, 4 to 5, 5 to 6, and 6 to 7, the interval is a whole tone. From 3 to 4 and from 7 to 8 the interval is a semitone.

23. CLEFS are characters used to distinguish the parts. The G clef is applied to the Treble, Alto, and Tenor—the F clef to the Bass.

24. The first seven letters of the Alphabet are applied to the staff as follows:—

25. The BRACE is used to connect staves and show how many parts are sung together.

NOTE.—The situation of the letters upon the staff should be thoroughly committed to memory.

26. In singing the scale the following SYLLABLES are used:—

Written Do, Re, Mi, Fa, Sol, La, Si, Do.

Pronounced DOE, RAY, ME, FA (not FAR, but as in FATHER), SOL (o as in whole, told), LA (a as in FA), SEE, DOE.

NOTE.—The application of these syllables to music is called SOLMIZATION.

27. The letters, numerals, and syllables are applied to the Natural or C Scale as follows:—

ELEMENTS OF VOCAL MUSIC.

NOTE.—The letters never change their places on the staff, but the numerals and syllables change with the scale or key. Thus, though, in the Major Scale, Do is always applied to One, One is not always on C.

28. These eight sounds complete the scale. When sounds above eight are sung, eight becomes one of a higher scale, and when sounds below one are sung, one becomes eight of a lower scale.

29. The human voice may be divided into four classes, viz., the lowest male, or Bass voice; the higher male, or Tenor voice; the lower female, or Alto, and the highest female, or Treble voice.

THE USUAL COMPASS OF THE HUMAN VOICE

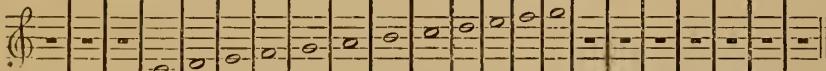

TREBLE.

ALTO.

TENOR.

BASS.

30. The difference of pitch denoted by the different clefs is, practically, six degrees—i.e., music written on the Treble staff, when sung by the same voice, is six degrees higher in pitch than that written on the same degrees in the Bass staff. But as there is a natural difference of an octave in pitch between the male and female voice, there is an actual difference of fourteen degrees, or an octave and a sixth, between a note on any degree in the Bass staff sung by a male voice, and a note on the same degree in the Treble staff sung by a female voice. Thus a note on middle C, or the first added line above in the Bass, though fourteen degrees higher with regard to its situation upon the staff, when sung by a male voice, is the same in pitch as a note on the first added line below in the Treble, sung by a female voice.

NOTE.—The difference between the male and female voice is easily seen in the following manner. Let both sound any given note—say one in the scale of C—and while the female voice prolongs the sound let the male voice run up the scale or octave, and their voices will then be in the same pitch.

QUESTIONS.

Of what does Chapter III. treat? What is the character called upon which music is written? How many lines has it? Spacs? What is each line and space called? How many degrees does the staff contain? How are they numbered? How may the number be increased? What is the space next above the staff called? Below? Next line above? Below? How is the pitch of notes represented? What is an Interval? The Diatonic Major scale? What is the interval from one to two? 2 to 3? &c. 3 to 4? 7 to 8? What are clefs? On what letter is the Treble clef situated? The Bass clef? To what parts is the G clef applied? What letters are applied to the staff? Repeat them in the order in which they are applied to the Treble staff. [The whole school.] How are they situated? Ans. G, third space below—A, second added line below, &c., through. Where is G? Where else? Where is A? B? &c., through. Repeat the letters in the order they are applied to the Bass staff. [Whole school.] How are they applied? Ans. C, 2d added line below, &c., through. Where is C? Where else? What is the Brace used for? Repeat the syllables applied to the scales. What is the application of these syllables called? Sing the scale by numerals and syllables. What is the interval from Do to Re? and so forth. Do the letters change their places? Do the numerals and syllables? What syllable is always applied to ONE in the Major Scale? Is One always on C? When sounds above Eight are sung what does Eight become? When sounds below One are sung what does One become? How many classes of voices are there? What are they? What is the difference of pitch between the Bass and Treble staff? Difference between the male and female voice? How many degrees difference in pitch between a note in the Bass sung by a male voice, and a note on the same degree in the Treble sung by a female voice? Read tunes in the key of C—by letters, numerals, and syllables.

DYNAMIC TONES.

31. A tone produced by ordinary exertion is a medium tone. It is called MEZZO, and is marked m.

32. A soft tone is called PIANO, and is marked p.

33. A loud tone is called FORTE, and is marked f.

34. A very soft, yet audible tone, is called PIANISSIMO, marked pp.

35. A very loud tone, approximating to a shout, is called FORTISSIMO, marked ff.

EXERCISE.

36. A tone commenced, continued, and ended with the same degree of power, is called an ORGAN TONE [=].

37. A tone gradually increasing in power is called CRESCENDO [Cres. or ==].

38. A tone gradually diminishing is called DIMINUENDO [dim. or ==].

39. A union of the crescendo and diminuendo forms a SWELL [<>].

40. A sudden crescendo or swell is called a PRESSURE TONE [< or ^]. Like many other dynamic signs, it is an exception to the general rule of accent.

41. A tone struck suddenly with great force and instantly diminished is called an EXPLOSIVE TONE [fp or sf or fz.]

EXERCISES.

Sing la, and syllables, ascending at one breath and descending at one.

QUESTIONS.

Of what does Chapter IV. treat? What is a medium tone? What is it called, and marked? What is a soft tone called? Marked? What is a loud tone called, and marked? What is a very soft tone called, and marked? What is a very loud tone called, and marked? What is an organ tone? What is a gradually increasing tone called? A gradually diminishing tone? When a tone gradually increases and then gradually decreases, what is it called? What is a sudden crescendo called? To what does it form an exception? What is a tone called which is struck suddenly and forcibly, and instantly diminished?

CHAPTER V.

M E L O D Y.

INTERVALS.

42. Two sounds of the same pitch are said to be in UNISON.

43. The interval from any note to that on the next degree of the staff is a SECOND—as from one to two, two to three.

ELEMENTS OF VOCAL MUSIC.

44. The interval from one to three, two to four, &c., or from any note to the next degree but one, is a THIRD.

45. The interval from any note to another on the fourth degree from it (always counting the starting point), is a FOURTH—to the fifth degree, a FIFTH, &c.

46. An interval of a whole tone is a MAJOR SECOND—of a semitone, a MINOR SECOND.

47. An interval of a tone and a half is a Minor Third.

48. An interval of two tones is a Major Third.

49. An interval of two tones and a half is a Perfect Fourth.

50. An interval of three tones is a Sharp Fourth.

51. An interval of two tones and two semitones is a Flat Fifth.

52. An interval of three tones and a semitone is a Perfect Fifth.

53. An interval of three tones and two semitones is a Minor Sixth.

54. An interval of four tones and one semitone is a Major Sixth.

55. An interval of four tones and two semitones is a Flat Seventh.

56. An interval of five tones and one semitone is a Sharp Seventh.

57. An interval of five tones and two semitones is an Eighth, or Octave.

The third measure shows a seventh (six notes) and a sixth (five notes). The fourth measure shows a sixth (five notes) and a seventh (six notes).

EIGHTHS AND SEVENTHS.

A musical staff in G clef with four measures. The first measure shows an eighth (seven notes) and a seventh (six notes). The second measure shows a seventh (six notes) and an eighth (seven notes). The third measure shows an eighth (seven notes) and a seventh (six notes). The fourth measure shows a seventh (six notes) and an eighth (seven notes).

58. If an interval extend beyond the octave, it does not lose its relation to the key. Thus, whether a note be two tones, or an octave and two tones, from One in the lower scale, it is reckoned, in harmony, as a third. And thus, also, whether sounds are in the same pitch, as at 42, or one, two, or three octaves from it, they are still reckoned to be in Unison.

59. The intervals which are agreeable to the ear, as both the Thirds, the Fourth, the Fifth, both the Sixths, and the Octave, are called CONSONANT intervals.

60. Both the Seconds, the Sharp Fourth, the Flat Fifth, and both the Sevenths are DISSONANT.

61. The Fourth, Fifth, and Octave cannot be altered without becoming dissonant, and are therefore called PERFECT intervals. The Thirds and Sixths are consonant, whether Major or Minor, and are therefore called IMPERFECT intervals.

62. The Key note or One of any scale is called the TONIC. It is always the last note in the Bass, and shows whether the key is Major or Minor. If it be Do the key is Major. If LA, the key is Minor.

63. The perfect fifth is called the DOMINANT of the key.

64. The perfect fourth is called the SUB-DOMINANT.

65. The sharp seventh is the LEADING NOTE to the Tonic, which requires to be heard after it.

ELEMENTS OF VOCAL MUSIC.

66. Thirds and Sixths are the only intervals which are allowed, by the rules of Composition, to proceed in consecutive order.

QUESTIONS.

Of what does Chapter V. treat? When are two sounds said to be in unison? What is a second? A third? A fourth? A fifth? A sixth? A seventh? An octave? What is a minor second? A major second? A minor third? A major third? A perfect fourth? A sharp fourth? A flat fifth? A perfect fifth? A minor sixth? A major sixth? A flat seventh? A sharp seventh? An octave? Suppose a note an octave and two tones from the key note or One in the lower scale, what is the interval called? An octave and fifth? If two notes be in the same pitch, or distant any number of octaves, are they still said to be in unison? What are intervals that are agreeable to the ear called? Which are the consonant intervals? Which the dissonant? Which are the perfect intervals? Why are they called perfect? Which are the imperfect intervals? Why are they called imperfect? What is one in every scale called? What is always the last note in the Bass? What is its name when the key is major? When the key is minor? What is the perfect fifth called? The perfect fourth? The sharp seventh? What are the only intervals allowed to succeed each other in consecutive order?

CHAPTER VI.

M E L O D Y.

THE CHROMATIC SCALE—MODULATION.

67. A SHARP \sharp raises a note half a tone.
68. A FLAT \flat lowers a note half a tone.
69. A NATURAL \natural cancels either a flat or sharp, and restores a note to its original sound.

70. Flats and sharps are called ESSENTIAL when placed at the beginning of a tune, but when flats, sharps, or naturals occur in the course of a piece of music they are called ACCIDENTALS, and their effect, unless cancelled, extends to every note on the same degree throughout the measure, but never beyond.

NOTE.—Some writers extend the effect beyond when notes are continued on the same degree, uninterrupted, but it saves trouble to confine it to the measure.

71. Between the notes of the Diatonic Scale which form the interval of a major second there may be an intermediate tone. Thus, between one and two there is a tone, which can be represented by a note located on either. If it is located on one, it has a sharp before it, and is called SHARP one, or C sharp. If on two, it has a flat before it, and is called FLAT two, or D flat.

72. The interval between any letter and its sharp or flat is a minor or CHROMATIC semitone. The interval between a letter sharped or flattened and the letter on the next degree is a major or Diatonic semitone. Thus, from C to C \sharp is a Chromatic semitone—from C \sharp to D is a Diatonic semitone. From D to D \flat is a Chromatic semitone—from D \flat to C is a Diatonic semitone.

73. In applying the syllables to the sharped notes the vowel sound is changed. Thus—Do becomes Di (Dee); Re, Ri (Ree); Fa, Fi (Fee); Sol, Si (See); La, Li (Lee).

74. When applied to the flattened notes Mi becomes Me (May); Sol, Se (Say); La, Le (Lay); Si, Se (Say).

75. The CHROMATIC SCALE consists of thirteen sounds, and has twelve intervals of a semitone each.

LETTERS, NUMERALS, AND SYLLABLES APPLIED TO THE CHROMATIC SCALE.

C	C \sharp	D	D \sharp	E	F	F \sharp	G	G \sharp	A	A \sharp	B	C
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13
Do	Di	Re	Ri	Mi	Fa	Fi	Sol	Si	La	Li	Se	Do

C	B	B \flat	A	A \flat	G	G \flat	F	E	E \sharp	D	D \flat	C
8	7	6	5	4	3	2	1
Do	Si	Se	La	Le	Sol	Se	Fa	Mi	Me	Re	Ra	Do

ELEMENTS OF VOCAL MUSIC.

76. Any of the notes in the above scale beside C may be made the foundation of a new scale, in which case the scale is said to be TRANPOSED.

77. The most common transpositions are from 1 to 5 and from 1 to 4.

78. The transposition from 1 to 5 is done by sharpening 4, which becomes 7 in the new key.

79. The transposition from 1 to 4 is done by flattening 7, which becomes 4 in the new key.

80. The flattened or sharpened note is called the NOTE OF MODULATION.

81. When this transposition takes place during the progress of a piece of music, it is not necessary, generally, to change the syllables, but merely their vowel sounds, as at 73, 74.

EXAMPLE.

TRANSPOSITION FROM 1 TO 5, OR FROM C TO G.

FROM G BACK TO C.

82. In some instances, however, it may be well for learners to change the solmization according to the new key.

NOTE. The change of key should be anticipated, and the new solmization commenced, if possible, on some convenient note preceding the note of modulation.

EXAMPLE.

TRANSPOSITION FROM ONE TO FIVE AND BACK.

TRANSPOSITION FROM ONE TO FOUR AND BACK.

83. A transient modulation into another key may take place in any piece of music, but, according to the rules of Composition, the tune must return and end in the principal key.

QUESTIONS.

Of what does Chapter VI. treat? What effect has a sharp placed before a note? A flat? A natural? When are flats and sharps called essential? When are they called accidentals? How far does their effect extend? Between what tones of the Diatonic Scale may there be an intermediate tone? Where may the tone between one and two be represented? If it is represented on one, what is its letter called? What is its numeral? If it is represented on two, what is its letter called? What is its numeral? What is a Chromatic semitone? A Diatonic semitone? What is the interval from C to C[#]? From C[#] to D? From D to D^b? From D^b to C? In applying the syllables to the sharpened notes, what is done? Example? When the syllables are applied to the flattened notes, how are they pronounced? How many sounds and intervals has the Chromatic Scale? What are its intervals? When any note besides C is taken as one, what is said of the scale? What are the most common transpositions? How is the transposition from one to five effected? What does four become? How is the transposition from one to four effected? What does seven become? What is the altered note called? Is it always necessary to change the syllables? What is done? Is it ever convenient to change the solmization? What is solmization? (See 26 Note.) Where should the new solmization be commenced? Must the tune always end in the principal key?

CHAPTER VII.

M E L O D Y.

TRANSPOSITION.

84. The intervals of the Diatonic Scale are natural to the human voice;

ELEMENTS OF VOCAL MUSIC.

It is, therefore, called the Natural Scale. C is assumed as the foundation of the Natural Scale from the fact, perhaps, that, to a great majority of voices, the pitch is more natural, and consequently, the scale is sung more easily in C than in any other key.

NOTE. The key of a tune receives its name from the letter which is taken as one.

85. When it becomes convenient to adopt, permanently, any other key than C, in order that the intervals of the Natural Scale may be preserved, it is necessary to introduce flats or sharps; and, to avoid the inconvenience of writing them before every note that is to be flattened or sharpened, they are placed at the beginning, and affect every note in the tune upon the degrees where they are situated. These flats or sharps indicate the key, and are therefore called the SIGNATURE.

NOTE. The absence of any positive sign is the only, and very natural, signature to the key of C.

86. If we change the key from C to G, four in the scale of C will become seven in the scale of G. Now between seven and eight there must be only the interval of a semitone. But assuming G as one, and ascending, we find F, the seventh, to be (according to the scale of C) only a semitone from six, but a whole tone from eight—both of which intervals are wrong. To remedy this it is necessary that F should be sharpened; and this F \sharp is the only difference between the key of C and the key of G. This sharp is placed immediately after the clef, and is called the signature to the key of G.

87. If we change the key from C to F, seven in the scale of C will become four in the new scale of F. From three to four there must be only the interval of a semitone. But assuming F as one, and ascending the scale, we find B, the fourth, to be (according to the scale of C) a whole tone from three, and only a semitone from five—both of which intervals are wrong. To remedy this, B must be flattened—and this B \flat is the only difference between the key of C and the key of F.

88. Every sharp added to the signature raises the key a fifth, or (which is the same thing) lowers it a fourth; and the last sharp is on the line or space immediately below the new key note. For example, when the key is G, the added sharp is on F; in the key of D the last sharp is on C, and so on.

89. Every additional flat raises the key a fourth, or lowers it a fifth, and the last flat is on the line or space immediately below the key note which is changed by its addition to the signature. For example, the key of C becomes the key of F by placing a flat on B, F becomes B flat by placing a flat on E, and B flat becomes E flat by placing a flat on A, and so on.

TABLE OF KEYS.

QUESTIONS.

Of what does Chapter VII. treat? Why is the Diatonic Scale called the Natural Scale? Why is C assumed to be the natural position of the scale? From what does the key of a tune derive its name? What do the flats or sharps at the beginning of a tune indicate? What are they called? What notes do they affect? What is the signature to the key of C? If the key is changed from C to G, what does four become? What must be the interval between seven and eight? In order to make the intervals right in the key of G, what must be done to F? What is the only note in the key of G that differs from the key of C? If the key is changed from C to F, what will seven become? What must be the interval between three and four? In order to make the intervals right in the key of F, what must be done to B? What is the only note in the key of F that differs from the key of C? How much does every sharp added to the signature raise or lower the key? Every flat? If the signature be one sharp, what is the key? Two? Three? Four? If the signature be one flat, what is the key? Two? Three? Four? How much lower are the keys of B \flat , E \flat , and A \flat , than the keys of B, E, and A.

CHAPTER VIII.

M E L O D Y.

THE MINOR SCALE.

90. Besides the Diatonic Major and the Chromatic Scale, there is another, called the MINOR SCALE, which differs from the Major with regard to its intervals and the application of its syllables.

91. In the Minor Scale, ascending, six and seven are sharped, and the semitones occur between two and three and seven and eight. In descending, all the notes are restored to the signature, and the semitones are between six and five and three and two.

92. When a major and minor key have the same signature, they are said to be related. Thus, in the minor key of A, the scale is said to be in its natural position, because of its relation to the natural key of C major.

93. To find the key of any minor scale having the same signature with any given major scale, you will ascend a sixth, or descend a third from the key of the major.

95. The major key, relative to any minor, is based upon its third.

THE SCALE IN A MINOR.

NOTE. In many compositions the sixth descending must also be sharped, though no sign appears. Indeed, in regard to the structure of the Minor Scale, there appears to be no little diversity of opinion, even among distinguished composers. The uncertainty of its structure, together with the comparative difficulty of its performance, has created an aversion to the study of the Minor Scale, though by far the sweetest and most effective music is found in it.

TABLE OF THE PRINCIPAL KEYS,

WITH THE SITUATION OF THE MINOR SCALE.

KEY OF D RELATIVE TO F MAJOR.

KEY OF E RELATIVE TO G MAJOR.

KEY OF G RELATIVE TO B-flat MAJOR.

KEY OF B RELATIVE TO D MAJOR.

KEY OF F-sharp RELATIVE TO A MAJOR. (Seldom used.) KEY OF F RELATIVE TO A-flat MAJOR.

ELEMENTS OF VOCAL MUSIC.

KEY OF C[#] RELATIVE TO E MAJOR (Seldom used.) KEY of B_b RELATIVE TO D_b MAJOR.

QUESTIONS.

Of what does Chapter VIII. treat? How does the Minor Scale differ from the Major? Where are the semitones, ascending? What notes are sharpened? In descending, where are the semitones? When are major and minor keys said to be related? How do we find the key of a minor scale having the same signature with any given major scale? Upon what numeral in any minor scale is its relative major based? To what major key is A minor related? D? G? C?

CHAPTER IX.

MISCELLANEOUS.

95. The principal embellishments introduced in music to heighten the effect of certain passages, are the Passing Note (written in small characters), the Turn, and the Shake.

96. When a passing note precedes an essential note it is called an Appogiature, and occurs on an accented part of the measure. When it follows an essential note it is called an After-Note, and occurs on an unaccented part.

97. The time given to an appogiature is left, generally, to the judgment of the performer. It is sometimes barely touched in order merely to soften an interval. At other times it is considered a leaning note. It then requires the accent, and takes half the time of the principal note if plain, and two thirds if dotted.

WRITTEN.	APPOGIATURES.	EXAMPLE.
PERFORMED.

98. The Turn [~] retains the principal sound, and requires also the tones next above and below it. It should not be hurried, but performed distinctly.

99. When a sharp, flat, or natural is placed over or under a turn, it denotes that the highest or lowest note is to be sharp, flat, or natural.

WRITTEN.	PERFORMED.	EXAMPLE.
OR
OR

100. The SHAKE [tr] denotes a rapid iteration of two sounds.

WRITTEN. tr	SUNG.

101. STACCATO passages, marked ' ' ' ' are to be performed in a very pointed and distinct manner.

102. POINTED passages, marked are performed gently and distinctly.

E L E M E N T S O F V O C A L M U S I C.

103. A TIE is used—one, to connect notes on the same degree which are not separated in sound ; two, to connect notes on different degrees that are sung to one syllable ; three, to denote the LEGATO style of singing—a close, gliding manner.

104. A DOUBLE BAR || denotes the end of a strain, or line of poetry. It does not interfere with the division of measures unless it is in the place of a single bar, in which case the last is not necessary.

105. A REPEAT :: requires the repetition of a strain or more. If placed before a double bar, repeat the preceding music, or as far as to a former repeat. If after a double bar, repeat the music that follows. If it occurs where there is no double bar (as in old music), repeat what follows.

106. A PAUSE ~ over a note requires that it be prolonged beyond its usual time. Over a double bar, it denotes that the next strain is not commenced so soon as usual.

107. A CLOSE ||— denotes the end of a piece of music, but not always of its performance.

108. DA CAPO [D. C.] written over the staff denotes a return either to the first or some former strain with which the performance is to close.

109. The figures 1 and 2, placed over one or more notes at the close of a tune or movement that is to be repeated, signify that the phrase marked 1 is to be sung the first time, and that marked 2 the last time.

What does it then require ? What is said of the turn ? Effect of a flat, sharp, or natural over or under a turn ? What does the shake denote ? How are staccato passages performed ? Pointed passages ? What is the first use of a tie ? Second ? Third ? What does the double bar denote ? What does a repeat require ? Before a double bar ? After ? Effect of a pause over a note ? Over a double bar ? What does the close denote ? Da Capo ? The figures 1 and 2 ?

R E M A R K S.

1. Singing, as a part of public worship, should, if possible, be performed by the whole congregation. But if there are any who cannot, or will not learn to sing, they ought not to mar the devotion by attempting to sing in public.
 2. Every singer should have a tune book ; but he ought to commit so thoroughly to memory as not to be entirely dependent upon it in a public performance. The singer who is obliged to refer constantly to the music he is performing, will produce but little effect.
 3. Musical instruments may be useful where singers are not thoroughly trained, but if they are, no instrument can add to the sweetness or effect of their music. If instruments are used, great care should be taken not to disturb the congregation in tuning them.
 4. If there is a select choir, the members of it should receive their places with reference principally to their singing abilities, and not with reference to their wealth, station, or general talent.
 5. The tune must be keyed to suit the singers. It is supposed to be written where it can generally be performed with the greatest effect. Some choirs may require it a note higher or lower.
 6. If, under a dispensation of grace, sinners may come into the "congregation of the Lord," to hear and receive the benefits of the gospel. No person who is profane or vicious should be permitted to abuse the worship of God by taking a place in the choir.
- It is a painful fact, that many who assume this responsible part of public worship, feel themselves at liberty to disturb the remaining exercises, by turning over their books, reading, whispering, &c. &c., as if everything of importance was done when they had gone through with their thoughtless and miserable apology for SINGING PRAISES TO GOD, and they were not at all interested in the great truths of the gospel.
- Remember, then, my young singing friends especially, your duty. Why are you permitted to sing ? God is merciful. Praise Him ! Why are you called together on the holy Sabbath ? JESUS CHRIST HATH DIED !—AND IS RISEN ! Praise Him ! Oh praise Him ! What influence is that which moves so sweetly upon your hearts while you hear the blessed gospel ? 'Tis the Holy Ghost ! He would win you gently back to God ! Praise Him ! Sing praises ! Think what the gospel offers you—

"SALVATION ON EARTH, AND A MANSION IN HEAVEN."

Sing then. There is cause for joy—

PRAISE GOD, FROM WHOM ALL BLESSINGS FLOW !
PRAISE HIM, ALL CREATURES HERE BELOW !
PRAISE HIM ABOVE, YE HEAVENLY HOST !
PRAISE FATHER, SON, AND HOLY GHOST !

PSALM XXIV.—NEW VERSION.

1 Earth is the Lord's,
And all its fullness his !
This world of ours
And they who therein dwell.
For he hath laid
Upon the mighty seas
The earth, and deep
Foundations of our world ;
And on the floods
Hath built it firm and well.

2 Who shall ascend
Into Jehovah's hill ?
Who stand within
His holy place on high ?
Of hands the clean,
The pure of heart and will;
He who hath not
Lifted to vanity
His soul, nor hath
He sworn deceitfully :

3 He shall receive
The blessing of the Lord !
He shall receive
The perfect righteousness,
From him who is
To him salvation's God.
Of those who him
Do seek, such is the race
Of those who do,
O Jacob, seek thy face.

4 Lift up, O gates,
Lift up your heads on high !
Be lifted up,
Doors of eternity !
Then he, the King
Of glory, shall come in !
Who can this King—
Th's King of glory be ?
Jehovah—strong
In battle, mighty he !

5 Lift up, O gates,
Lift up your heads on high ;
Yea, lift them up,
Doors of eternity !
Then he, the King
Of glory shall come in !
Who can this King—
This King of glory be !
The Lord of hosts,
The King of glory he !

2 He who gave for us his life,
Who for us endured the strife,
Is our Paschal Lamb to-day:
We, too, sing for joy, and say—
Hallelujah!

5 Now he bids us tell abroad
How the lost may be restored,
How the penitent forgiven,
How we too may enter heaven—
Hallelujah!

3 He who bore all pain and loss,
Comfortless, upon the cross,
Lives in glory now on high,
Pleads for us, and hears our cry—
Hallelujah!

6 Thou, our Paschal Lamb indeed,
Christ, thy ransom'd people feed;
Take our sins and guilt away,
That we all may sing for aye—
Hallelujah! Amen.

4 He who slumber'd in the grave,
Is exalted now to save;
Now through Christendom it rings,
That the Lamb is King of kings—
Hallelujah!

Sin-ners Je - sus will re - ceive, Say this word of grace to all Who the heav-ly path-way leave; All who lin - ger, all who fall—This can bring them back a gain—Christ re - ceiv - eth sin - ful men.

1. The Lord my shep - herd lives, All that I need he gives; In pas - tures green I have my rest,

Where gen - tle wa - ters roll. He doth re - store my soul, In ho - ly paths with guid - ance blest.

2 For his name's sake alone
This grace to me is shown.
Yea, though through death's dark vale I go,
No evil will I fear,
For thou, my God, art near;
Thy rod and staff sweet peace bestow.

3 Before the face of those
Who have been still my foes
A table thou for me dost spread.

Thou more than fillest up
With blessings rich my cup ;
With oil thou dost anoint my head.

4 For goodness manifold
And mercies still untold
Through all my days shall follow me.
And when those days are past,
Within God's house at last
For ever shall my dwelling be.

1. From the depths of an - guish, Un - to thee, O Lord, I cried, Hear my voice when ills be - tide; When I call, be thou my guide;

Lord, for thee I lan - guish. If thy jus - tice should de - mand Re - com-pense from sin - ners' hand, Who of all our race could stand, Or e - scape from an - guish!

2 But with thee is mercy—
Sternly thou dost not condemn ;
Therefore art thou fear'd by them
Who the tide of evil stem,
Trusting in thy mercy.
For Jehovah I will wait—
True his word, his goodness great ;
Pardon, in our low estate,
He in grace will grant us.

3 More than patient watchers,
Through the dark and silent night,
Long for dawn of morning light,
Longs my soul for precious sight
Of the Lord my Saviour.
In Jehovah's plenteous grace
Confidence let Israel place;
Sin and guilt he will efface,
He alone will save us.

Lord, our dwell-ing thou hast been, Since the years their course be - gan; Ere the moun-tains first were seen, Ere thou mad'st this home for man,

From e - ter - nal a - ges gone, On through a - ges yet to run, Thou art God thy - self a - lone, Ev - er still the liv - ing One. A - men.

Last verse.

2 Life must end at thy command,
Dust to dust, we must decay :
Years untold before thee stand,
Brief, when past, as yesterday ;
Brief as watch in lonesome night,
Brief as hours in slumber spent ;
Borne, as if by torrents' might,
Men by thee away are sent.

3 As the grass that clothes the fields,
Verdant stands at break of day,

But, when morn to evening yields,
Fallen low, it fades away :
So from thee our troubles flow,
And thine anger us consumes ;
Our transgressions thou dost know,
Secret sins thy face illumines.

4 In thy wrath our days are pass'd,
As a tale they speed away ;
Threescore years and ten they last,
Or if fourscore years we stay,

Grief and toil such strength attend,
Soon it fails, and man is gone :
Who thy wrath can comprehend ?
Measured by thy fear alone.

5 Life's few days so teach to know,
That our hearts may wisdom learn ;
Why so long our time of woe ?
To thy servants, Lord, return.
With thy mercy fill us soon.
Joyful then in thee we'll live ;

Gladness, as our days of gloom,
As our years of trouble, give.

6 Let thy work to us appear,
To our sons thy glory show ;
Bring thy wondrous beauty near,
Shed on us its quick'ning glow.
May we fellow-workers be,
Leaning still on strength divine ;
Prosper, Lord, our work, and we
Humbly own the honour thine.

2 Thy secret voice invites me still

The sweetness of thy yoke to prove ;

And fain I would; but though my will

Seems fix'd, yet wide my passions rove,

Yet hindrances strew all the way :

I aim at thee, yet from thee stray.

3 'Tis mercy all—that thou hast brought

My mind to seek her peace in thee ;

Yet while I seek, but find thee not,

No peace my wand'ring soul shall see.

Oh, when shall all my wand'rings end,

And all my steps to thee-ward tend ?

4 O Lord, thy sov'reign aid impart,

To save me from low-thoughted care ;

Chase this self-will through all my heart,

Through all its latent mazes there :

Make me thy dutious child, that I

Ceaseless may "Abba, Father," cry.

The musical score consists of four staves of music in common time, treble clef, and B-flat major. The lyrics are integrated into the music, appearing below the staves. The first two staves begin with a single note followed by a series of eighth notes. The third staff begins with a single note followed by a series of sixteenth notes. The fourth staff begins with a single note followed by a series of eighth notes.

4 For all we love, the poor, the sad,

O blessed Jesus, be our light.

Lord, make me thine for ever,
Nor let me faithless prove;
Oh let me never, never
Abuse such dying love.

4 Be near me, Lord, when dying,
Oh show thy cross to me;
And for my succour flying
Come, Lord, to set me free.
These eyes, new faith receiving,
From Jesus shall not move:
For he who dies believing
Dies safely through thy love

2 Zion hears the watchmen singing,
And all her heart with joy is springing ;
She wakes, she rises from her gloom,
For her Lord comes down ali-glorious
The strong in grace, in truth victorians,
Her star is risen, her light is come.
Ah ! come, thou blessed Lord,
O Jesns, Son of God,
Halleluiah !
We follow till the halls we see,
Where thou hast bid us sup with thee.

3 Now let all the heavens adore thee.
And men and angels sing before thee
With harp and cymbal's clearest tone :
Of one pearl each shining portal,
Where we are with the choir immortal,
Of angels round thy dazzling throne ;
Nor eye hath seen, nor ear
Hath yet attain'd to hear
What there is ours.
But we rejoice, and sing to thee
Our hymn of joy eternally.

Through the dear Redeemer's name;
Show thy reconciling face—
Take away our sin and shame;
From our worldly cares set free,
May we rest this day in thee.

3 Here we come thy name to praise;
Let us feel thy presence near:
May thy glory meet our eyes,
While we in thy house appear:
Here afford us, Lord, a taste
Of our everlasting feast.

4 May the gospel's joyful sound
Conquer sinners—comfort saints;
Make the fruits of grace abound,
Bring relief from all complaints,
Thus let all our Sabbaths prove,
Till we join the church above.

NO. 406.—“OH HAD I WINGS LIKE A DOVE!”

1. Oh had I wings like a dove! I would fly A-way from this world of care; My soul would mount to the realms on high, And seek for a re-fuge there;

But is there no ha-ven here on earth, No hope for the wounded breast, No fa-vour'd spot where con-tent has birth, In which I may find a rest!

2 Oh ! is it not written, “Believe, and live !”

The heart by bright hope allured,
Shall find the comfort these words can give,
And be by its faith assured;
Then why should we fear the cold world's frown,
When truth to the heart has given
The light of religion to guide us on
In joy to the paths of heaven?

3 There is, there is, in thy holy Word—

Thy Word which can ne'er depart—
There is a promise of mercy stored
For the lowly and meek of heart :
“ My yoke is easy, my burden light,
Then come unto me for rest ; ”
These, these are the words of promise stored
For the wounded and wearied breast.

CHORUS.

From his home be - low to his home in heaven. To his home in heaven, to his home in heaven: From his home be - low to his home in heaven.

2 A home in heaven! as the sufferer lies
On his bed of pain, and uplifts his eyes
To that bright home, what a joy is given,
With the blessed thought of his home in heaven!

3 A home in heaven! when our pleasures fade,
And our wealth and fame in the dust are laid ;
And strength decays, and our health is riven,
We are happy still with our home in heaven.

4 A home in heaven! when the faint heart bleeds
By the Spirit's stroke for its evil deeds ;
Oh! then what bliss in that heart forgiven,
Does the hope inspire of a home in heaven!

5 A home in heaven! when our friends are fled
To the cheerless gloom of the mouldering dead,
We wait in hope on the promise given—
We will meet up there in our home in heaven.

6 Our home in heaven! oh, the glorious home,
And the Spirit join'd with the bride say, “Come!”
Come seek his face, and your sins forgiven,
And rejoice in hope of your home in heaven.

2 When our Deliv’rer comes,
By and by, by and by;
From Egypt’s yoke set free,
We will hail the jubilce,
And to Canaan all return
By and by, by and by.

3 And when to Jordan’s flood
We are come, we are come;
Jehovah rules the tide,
And the waters will divide,
While the ransom’d host shall shout,
“We are come, we are come.”

4 There friends shall meet again,
Who have loved, who have loved;
Our embracess shall be sweet,
When we each other greet
At our great Redeemer’s feet,
Who have loved, who have loved.

5 There with the happy throng,
We’ll rejoice, we’ll rejoice;
Shouting “Glory to our King,”
Till the dome of heaven shall ring,
And through all eternity
We’ll rejoice, we’ll rejoice.

In many a gentle shower,
And brighter scenes before us
Are opening ev'ry hour;
Each cry to heaven going
Abundant answers brings,
And heavenly gales are blowing,
With peace upon their wings.

3 See heathen nations bending
Before the God we love!
And thousand hearts ascending
In gratitude above;
While sinners now confessing,
The gospel call obey,
And seek the Saviour's blessing,
A nation in a day.

4 Blest river of salvation,
Pursue thy onward way!
Flow thou to ev'ry nation,
Nor in thy richness stay.
Stay not, till all the lowly
Triumphant reach their home,
Stay not, till all the holy
Proclaim, "The Lord has come."

2 What though the spicy breezes
Blow soft o'er Ceylon's isle—
Though every prospect pleases,
And only man is vile?—
In vain, with lavish kindness,
The gifts of God are strown;
The heathen in his blindness,
Bows down to wood and stone.

3 Shall we, whose souls are lighted
By wisdom from on high—
Shall we to man benighted
The lamp of life deny?
Salvation!—oh, salvation!
The joyful sound proclaim,
Till earth's remotest nation
Has learnt Messiah's name.

4 Waft—waft, ye winds, his story;
And you, ye waters, roll,
Till, like a sea of glory,
It spreads from pole to pole;
Till o'er our ransomed nature,
The Lamb for sinners slain,
Redeemer, King, Creator,
Returns in bliss to reign.
