The musical score is written on ten staves, each with a treble clef and a common time signature (C). The notation is a form of shorthand, likely for a keyboard instrument, using vertical stems and diamond-shaped notes. The score is divided into two main sections: 'Ymphonìa' and 'Kirie'.

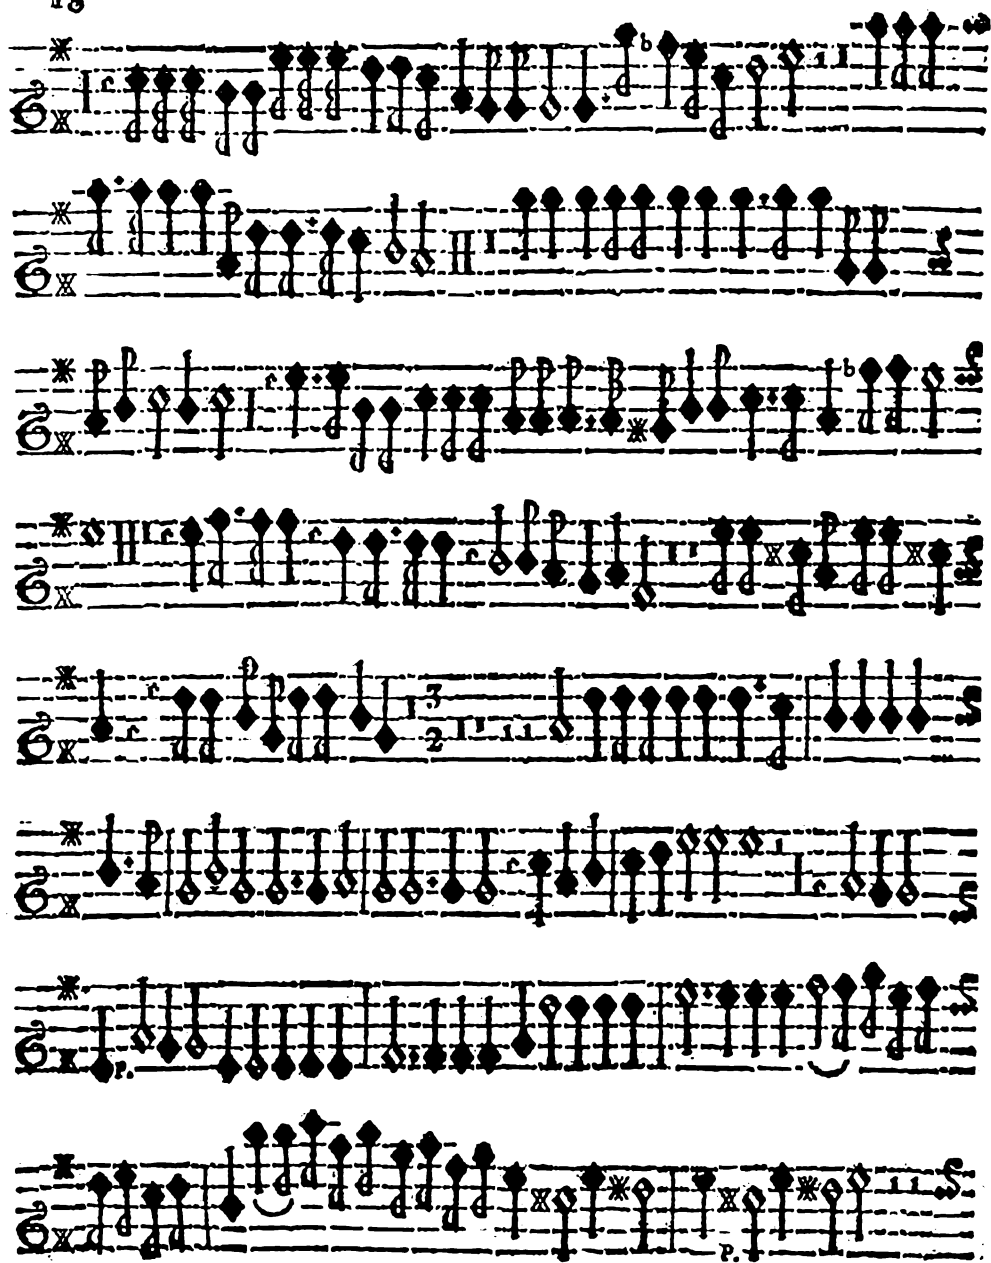

The first section, 'Ymphonìa', begins with a large 'S' and consists of the first seven staves. It features a variety of note values and rests, with some staves containing multiple diamond notes. The second section, 'Kirie', begins with a large 'K' and consists of the remaining three staves. It is marked 'Allegro' and includes the instruction 'Christe. Tacer.' above the eighth staff. The notation continues with similar shorthand symbols, including some staves with multiple diamond notes.

Handwritten musical score on eight staves. The notation includes various rhythmic values (eighth, sixteenth, and thirty-second notes), rests, and dynamic markings such as p (piano) and f (forte). The score is written in a historical style with a treble clef and a key signature of one sharp (F#). The eighth staff begins with a large S and the word Anctus. below it. The piece concludes with a double bar line and a final S on the eighth staff.
