

TO MISS ANNIE WALTON
Woodstock, Va.

None Remember Me

BALLAD

Written and Composed

BY

J. H. HEWITT.

Author of

"Rock me to Sleep."

"Dreaming, dreaming of Thee."

"Twine a Laurel Wreath" &c.

NEW YORK

PUBLISHED BY J. L. PETERS

Entered according to Act of Congress A. D. 1868 by Jno L. Peters in the Clerk's Office of the Dist. Ct. for the D. of New Jersey

NONE REMEMBER ME.

by J. H. HEWITT.

Andante.

Voice.

Piano.

1. Oh, were therebut one sha-dy
2. A wand' - - - rer long in dis-tant

5492-3

spot lands That I might claim as home, Where With - out a friend to cheer, I false - - hoods foot steps ling'erd not, I'd glad - - ly cease to count - - ed out lifes running sands, Thro' many a scald - ing roams, Or were there but a gen - tle tear, My love is sleep - ing in the eye, My star of love to be, I tomb, Be - neath the wil - low tree For

None remember me.

5492-2

rall. 5

would not o'er my sorrows sigh, But none re-mem-ber me, I For me no flow'rs of friendship bloom, Now none re-mem-ber me, For'

a tempo

would not o'er my sorrows sigh, But none re-mem-ber me.
me no flow'rs of friendship bloom, Now none re-mem-ber me.

a tempo

3

The forms I lov'd in other days,
Now bless my sight no more,
The lips that sung me pleasant lays,
Their magic spell is o'er;
All desolate life's pathway seems,
No flow'rs bloom on the lea,
Past joys are but as faded dreams,
For none remember me.

None remember me.

5492-3
Porter.