The musical score consists of five staves of music. The top three staves are for voices: Tenor primus (C), Tenor secundus (F), and Bassus (B). The bottom two staves are for a continuo instrument, likely harpsichord or organ, indicated by the C-clef and basso continuo (BC) signature. The vocal parts are written in black notation on five-line staves. The lyrics are written below each staff in a Gothic script. The first staff (Tenor primus) starts with 'et repletis sunt omnes spiritu sancto'. The second staff (Tenor secundus) starts with 'dabat eloqui illis'. The third staff (Bassus) starts with 'ex omninatione que'. The fourth staff (Continuo) starts with 'Lovenit multitudo'. The fifth staff (Continuo) starts with 'mirabatur'. The lyrics continue across the staves, with some words appearing in multiple voices simultaneously.

Tenor Primus & Secundus.

Fuga in disponente.

Musical score for Josquin's 'Mater misericordie'. The score consists of two staves of music in a Gothic musical notation system. The first staff begins with a treble clef, a common time signature, and a key signature of one sharp. The lyrics for this section are:

Mater misericordie
Integra & casta es maria
Quocessifica fulgida celi porta o mater alma Christi carissima carissima suscipe pia laudum preconia pre omnia

The second staff begins with a bass clef, a common time signature, and a key signature of one sharp. The lyrics for this section are:

Secunda pars.
Que nūc flagitāt devota corda & ora ceda & ora dulcisona nobis concedas venias
