

THE OYSTER CROSS'D IN LOVE
the Popular Duett sung with the greatest applause by MESS^{RS}. DURUSET & GRIMALDI, at the Theatre Royal Covent Garden, in the new Pantomime of HARLEQUIN and the SWANS
or the Bath of Beauty, Composed & Adapted for the PIANO FORTE,
by W.H.WARE.

Ent^d at Sav^o Hall The Words by

LONDON

M Lewis Esq.

Price 1/6

Printed & Sold by W. Hodson at his Music Warehouse 45 High Holborn.

OYSTER. CLOWN. OYSTER.

Andante Affeto Oh! Eh! Oh! gentle

CLOWN.

swain your Knife re - sign Nor wound a heart so soft as mine Who thus my OYSTER . CLOWN .

pi - - ty tries to move An Oyster who is cross'd in Love Oyster Alas an

Oys - - ter cross'd in Love Ye Gods an Oys - - ter cross'd in Love

CLOWN .

Then quit your cru - - el nymph for now a fair more tempt - - ing claims your vow She's form'd for pleas - - ing all be -

- holders For 'tis a fine Cod's head and shoulders She's form'd for.

pleas - ing all be - holders For 'tis a fine Cod's head and

OYSTER.

shoulders Oh! cease nor tempt a faith - ful

CLOWN.

OYSTER.

Fish She waits you on - a wedge - wood dish No no for CLOWN.

Oyster

soon my death shall prove That Oysters can be true in Love The hardest heart twoud surely move To see an Oys - - - ter cross'd in Love The hardest heart twoud surely move To see an

Oys - - - ter cross'd in Love. gva - - - loco

fp